

About Dublin

Discover Dublin culture, past steps from our distinguished address in the city centre. From the famous Guinness Storehouse to St. Patrick's Cathedral, you can take a walk back in time to learn about Irish heritage and events that have shaped Dublin's history. Many attractions around the city offer self-guided tours and guided programmes for visitors to learn about the city's history and legends of the site. Many also host annual events, festivals, and other activities each season for a richer cultural experience.

City Center Attractions

The Great Outdoors

Contact Us

Name
Email
Your Message

New Page

The Great Outdoors

Phoenix Park

The Phoenix Park is the largest enclosed public park in any capital city in Europe. It was originally formed as a royal hunting Park in the 1600s and opened to the public in 1747. A large herd of fallow deer still roams the Park. The Park is also home to the Zoological Gardens, Race and Golf Courses and various other gardens. The Phoenix Park is a great place to visit for a day out. It offers a wide range of activities and facilities for visitors of all ages. The Park is also a great place to see some of the city's most famous landmarks, including the Phoenix Park Race Course and the Phoenix Park Golf Course. The Park is also a great place to see some of the city's most famous landmarks, including the Phoenix Park Race Course and the Phoenix Park Golf Course.

The Phoenix Park is open 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, all year round. The main gates of the Park at Parnham Road and Castleknock Gate are open 24 hours.

Visit Website

Howth

A great walk of around two hours on way marked trails in fairly good condition. Fresh sea breezes most days. Great views of the rugged coastline and city, a panorama of Dublin Bay, another panorama of Howth Harbour and an almost total view of both the Dolly Lighthouse and Howth Harbour Lighthouse. Plenty of interesting opportunities of enjoying wildlife as well as the views. Easy access by DART (public transportation). Pubs and restaurants for a break in the middle of the walking route, as well as at the end.

Visit Website

Poolbeg Lighthouse

The Poolbeg Lighthouse Walk is a gorgeous coastal walk that'll show you the richest of cobble.

The section of the Poolbeg Lighthouse walk is toughish due to its length and the fact that once you reach the Great South Wall you'll be on a narrow, rocky path. However, if you take a little 10-minute detour and grab a coffee along the way you'll have a pleasant coffee break to keep you going.

Visit Website

National Botanic Gardens

Ireland's premier garden is a green oasis situated in the busy suburbs of Dublin, not far from Dublin City Centre. It is one of the oldest and largest and home to over 13,000 different plant species. Famous for its Victorian glasshouses, the Coolhouse Range, designed by Richard Turner, and the Great Palm House, Ireland's only tropical conservatory. Outdoor features include the rose and rock gardens, double herbaceous borders, the plant and rose walks, the arboretum and the vegetable garden and wild Ireland, the native conservation area.

Visit Website

Restaurants | Iconic Pubs

Restaurants

Name	Check	Reserve
------	-------	---------

Iconic Pubs

